LOSS ESTIMATED AT MILLION DOLLARS IN WHARVES AND DOCKS

Cotton Destroyed In Blaze —Warehouses Burned Down

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 14.—Conservative estimates today placed the loss close to $1,000,000 in the fire which ravaged the waterfront here last night and early today.

Four wharves, four blocks of warehouse facilities near the business section approximately forty carloads of freight and 4,400 bales of cotton were either wholly destroyed or badly damaged.

The blaze started in the east end of the Mallory line docks near Pier 22. About 4500 bales of cotton were destroyed.

Four entire blocks of waterfront warehouse facilities were destroyed. No lives were reported lost.

Wesleyan will meet in 15 or 16 contests during the remainder of the year, John T. Marshman, head of the department of oratory said.

Wesleyan opens the debating season tomorrow night, meeting teams from Wooster and Western Reserve in the annual contest of the Ohio Intercollegiate Debating League.

Wesleyan will debate Wooster at Cleveland and Western Reserve at Wooster while Western Reserve and Wooster meet in the Wesleyan auditorium here.

The subject for debate is: "Resolved, that the present policy to extend governmental restrictions of individual liberty should be condemned."

SHERIFF INDICTED IN BEER SYNDICATE

Columbus, Jan. 14.—Gov. A. V. Donahey will take no action to suspend Sheriff William Witt, Hamilton county, indicted last yesterday in connection with the operations of a Cincinnati beer syndicate, the executive announced today.

Sheriff Witt was indicted together with officials and employees of the Monawk Brewery Company. The men, the government charges, operated a syndicate that distributed 1,000 gallons of beer daily to Cincinnati saloons.

There are no charges against Sheriff Witt before me and there is no reason why I should intervene and suspend him," the Governor told the United Press. The governor said that even though the charges are now filed, he doubted whether he would interfere.

BUILDERS SELECT OFFICERS AT MEET

Springfield, O., Jan. 14.—Delegates at the closing session of the two-day convention of the Ohio State Association of Builders' Exchanges elected John H. Clemmer, Akron, president, yesterday.

Other new officers installed are: George B. Hicks, South Charleston, vice president; Harry Gillette, Cleveland, second vice president; Tyler Field, Cincinnati, third vice president; Phillip P. Gott, Akron, secretary; and J. A. Higgins, Dayton, assistant secretary. Delegates were entertained at dinner by officials of the Southwestern Portland Cement Company at its new plant undergoing construction in Osborn, Wednesday noon.

BLAME BOTH PARTIES FOR SHORT REVENUES

Columbus, O., Jan. 14.—Responsibility for the decreases in the state's general revenue fund, was laid at the door of both the Republican and Democratic parties in a swift exchange of notes by the two state organizations today.

Countering charges by Republican State Chairman Fred Warner, that Gov. Donahey was responsible for the condition of the treasury, Thomas E. Dye, head of the Democratic state executive committee pointed out that the legislature passed bills appropriating $9,000,000 over the Governor's veto.

State Treasurer Day has issued a warning that the state treasury faces virtual depletion within the next two years.

OTHER ISSUES MAY BE INJECTED IN SESSION CALLED TO ENACT RELIEF

Fear Solons Will Forget Pledges and Bring Up Bible Bill, Auto License Law, State Office Building And Other Questions

Columbus, Jan. 14.—The Ohio General Assembly will convene at 9 a.m. tomorrow for the avowed purpose of enacting financial relief legislation for bankrupt or near bankrupt political subdivisions.

Whether legislative leaders will be able to carry out their program of limiting the reconvened session to already drafted emergency relief measures, appeared increasingly doubtful today.

Before issuing the call for the session the special reconvening committee asked each solon to pledge himself to enact only the relief bill. Open dissatisfaction with this plan was expressed by the legislators as they gathered today, preparatory to party caucuses this evening.

The Republicans have invited the Democrats to participate in a joint caucus but whether the Democrats will reject the offer and conduct their own caucus, remained doubtful.

In any event, legislators declared, Senator Joseph R. Gardner, floor leader of the senate and Representative Robert A. Taft, floor leader of the house, will meet with opposition when their chambers caucus.

In the senate the division is very close.

The fact that many legislators are reluctant to risk factional battles, may react in favor of those who pledged themselves to enact only the relief bill.

In addition to the relief measure, the law-makers will be asked to consider the state office building controversy, the automobile license law, the Bible bill and a request for an appropriation to put the realtors licensing act into effect.

Rep. Morgan, Cleveland has prepared a "repealer bill" to wipe out the statutes, 1926 sections of the law that have become obsolete and thirteen sections that have been declared unconstitutional. He has announced he will demand enactment of the measures.

W. A. Clark, of Champaign County, is expected to lead a demand for re-enactment of the Bible bill over Governor Donahey's veto.

The governor rejected the measure last spring.

FIFTEEN YEAR OLD GIRL FULL FLEDGED MUSICAL COMPOSER

Youngtown Girl Sells Ballad Written At Household

Youngtown, O., Jan. 14.—Since early childhood Sylvia Malagisi, Youngtown dreamed of the day when songs of her composition would be on the music rack of dance orchestras. Today at 15, Sylvia is exhibiting her first published work—a ballad entitled "In the Land of Paradise Far Away," which has just been purchased by a New York publishing house.

Sylvia's attempts to climb into the realm of composers has not been without stumbling blocks.

She is the oldest of ten children and in a family that size with its house work and caring for babies, writing love-laden words for songs can be but a side line.

But Sylvia hums her songs as she plies the broom and dustcloth and shapes the words for the ballads.

Then after work is done and the needs of the smaller brothers and sisters are satisfied, Sylvia sits at the kitchen table and jots down her thoughts on paper.

Like the countless composers and authors gone before, Sylvia met resistance in her first attempt to market her work. Rejection slips and returned manuscripts brought, not despair, but new determination.

Now the first accepted composition has brought joy to Sylvia. Rights for her song have been taken by a New York recording orchestra.

Sylvia also has ambitions as a magazine writer and already has several sketches in nationally known publications.

NICAURAGUAN CHIEF EXECUTIVE QUILTS

Washington, Jan. 14.—President Solerzano of Nicaragua, has resigned following action of the Nicaraguan congress in declaring the vice president vacant and barring vice president Sacasa from the country for two years, according to a message from American minister Eberhardt to the state department today.

Should this action be followed by an unconstitutional assumption of control in Nicaragua by General Chamorro, Nicaragua's military master, a break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Nicaragua is foreseen here. The United States stands on its policy of refusal to recognize any Central American government securing power through other than constitutional means.

There is at present no intention to send American marines back to Nicaragua.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY SOUGHT FOR OHIO BOY HELD FOR MURDER

GOVERNOR DONAHEY APPEALS IN BEHALF OF CONVICTED YOUTH

Relatives and Citizens Leave For Utah To Halt Execution

Columbus, Jan. 14.—Unless eleventh hour executive clemency is granted, Ralph Seybolt, Defiance, O., youth, will be executed by a firing squad at the Utah penitentiary Salt Lake City, tomorrow morning.

Seybolt, convicted of killing a policeman chose to face an array of riflemen rather than die on a scaffold.

Armed with a personal appeal from Gov. Donahey, a delegation of Defiance citizens and Seybolt's relatives were due in Salt Lake City today to appeal to Governor George J. Dern, for mercy.

In response to a telegram from Gov. Donahey, the Utah executive said the appeal had been taken under consideration, adding that "Seybolt's case is causing me great concern." The condemned man is accused of killing Patrolman David H. Crowther in one of the most atrocious murders in the criminal annals of Utah.

The youth, with two companions, was picked up by Crowther, who had been commissioned to arrest tramps and pan handlers.

Inseam of arresting the boys, Crowther, according to testimony, offered to escort them to the outskirts of the city where they could board a freight train.

Enroute to the city limits, Crowther was attacked and slain. He was robbed and his automobile stolen. Seybolt was captured and convicted of the murder.

The youth's case has been before the Utah board of pardons, six times—today's session marking the seventh.

Each time the board denied clemency and each time Seybolt chose to be shot down by a firing squad rather than be hanged.

Seybolt's attorney was scheduled to appear before the board today for his final appeal. He has obtained new evidence, he says, but declined to disclose the nature of it.

Adverse ruling by the board will place Seybolt's life in the hands of Gov. Dern.

MOVE TO EXTRADITE ALLEGED SLAYER TO BE STARTED FRIDAY

Papers Will Be Sent For Return Of Robert Scott To Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Extradition papers for the return of Robert Scott, wanted here for the murder of Joseph Maurer, but now being held by police of San Francisco will be sent out today or tomorrow, the state's attorney's office announced.

Miss Helen Bullard, a witness to the Maurer killing, identified a photograph of "John Redding" as that of Scott. Scott gave his name as "John Redding" when he was arrested in California, a few months after he murdered and it was not until his term for an attempted robbery was about to expire did police get word he was the much wanted Chicago slayer.

Reports that the parents of Robert have denied he and "Redding" are one, were waved aside by Chicago police as just another effort to defend the prisoner. Russell Scott, brother of Robert, now in an Illinois asylum for the insane following his conviction for the Maurer murder which occurred during a hold-up.

NEW ERA GRAIN COMPANY ELEVATOR ROBBED OF $250 IN MERCHANDISE

Authorities are without clues to the identity of thieves who broke into the offices and storage room of The New Era Grain Company elevator at Bow-ersville sometime Wednesday night and escaped with grain, flour and tools valued at about $250.

Officials of the company are unable to determine the exact amount of loot taken but a complete checkup is being made by employees.

Ten bushels of clover seed valued at $225, one barrel of flour, a five gallon can of oil and numerous tools including wrenches were missed by an employee who opened up the establishment Thursday morning.

Marks on the front office door found standing open, lead officials to believe the door had been "jimmied." Entrance to an inside store room was effected by the use of a skeleton key as no marks appeared on the door to show force had been used.

The robbery was investigated by Sheriff Morris Sharp and Deputy Sheriff John Baughn.

Miss Zanie Mary Terrie, colored, no longer cares to live, she sits in her barred cell and cries for her lover, William Brinson, 16, to return. Zanie is sorry.

She sobbed her story to detectives. She prayed that William would survive.

Cleveland, Jan. 14.—Attorney H. A. Marting, was recalled as a witness today in the retrial of Josiah Kirby, former head of the $30,000,000 Cleveland Discount Co., on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The government sought, through Marting's testimony, to disclose a system of interlocking directorates existed between the Discount Company and other firms in which Kirby was interested.

Testimony by government witnesses disclosed that Kirby instructed his salesmen to sell securities of the discount company by representing the company dealt only in first mortgages.

RESCUE TEAMS GIVE UP HOPE FOR EIGHTY SEVEN STILL BURIED

Nine Saved While Six Bodies Out—Fire Boss Blamed

Wilburton, Okla., Jan. 14.—Fire which raged all night in the Degnan-McConnell mine No. 21, was brought under control early this morning and preparations were started to remove the bodies of the remaining eighty-six miners known to be dead in the mine. Six have been recovered.

All night long rescue teams worked in peril of their lives. Parts of the mine are still filled with gas, but nevertheless workers went down, curtained off the gas filled chambers and fought the flames.

Most of the bodies will be brought up today but some which are covered with debris in remote passages cannot be reached for a week, it is estimated.

It is impossible for any of the miners to be alive, officials say.

Sixty state troopers under Major General B. H. Marchant and Col. E. L. Head are on duty around the mine.

Dawn found Wilburton able to count only six of her dead. Fire and water threatened to rob the rest of even a humane burial.

A check established that 194 men had entered the mine just before the blast early Wednesday morning, twenty-five white men and seventy-six negroes. Eight negroes emerged late yesterday alive. They had been

CRAWLS FROM MINE
Degnan-McConnell Mine, Wilburton, Okla., Jan. 14.—Like one returning from the dead, Cecil McKinney, 25, white miner, emerged in the Degnan-McConnell mine crawled out of the mine entrance this morning.

McKinney had crawled on his hands and knees for twenty-three hours—had crawled over the body of his father whom he recognized and came out to learn that a brother was still in the mine.

Beyond being slightly burned and terribly fatigued, McKinney was little worse for his trying experience.

on the upper level. Another miner came out today.

Six bodies were retrieved late last night—three whites and three negroes.

Some one took a chance and paid with his life. That was the verdict of John Almond, district mine inspector after he had spent nearly eight hours in the mine.

Almond was one in charge of rescue work during the night.

He reported the mine had been checked up by the "fire bosses." The "fire bosses" go into the mine every morning, three hours before the miners and test for gas. If they find any appreciable evidence of it they are supposed to close the mine while they take immediate steps to radiate it.

Almond reported the "fire bosses" had oked the mine in the morning, but had left notices for the miners. The "fire bosses" were both experienced and Almond believed they just "took a chance" on the ventilating system sweeping the gas out of the mine.

Both "fire bosses" were found dead. There was little sleep in Wilburton and vicinity last night. Scores of relatives and friends of the entombed miners thronged around the mine.

Henry Phillips, one of the eight negroes to escape alive, has four sons still in the mine. They are all dead.

One of the eight rescued negroes, is crippled and hobbled out of the mine with a cane after the explosion.

Henry Johnson, negro, after being rescued alive from the mine drank a cup of coffee and joined the rescue team.

Elmer Thomas, electrical engineer from Hartshorne was found near the main shaft. The concussion stopped his watch at 8:30 a. m. Many were burned.

The list of survivors now stands at nine with ninety-two listed as dead.

A call for a relief fund may be broadcast for the miners families, many of the milt destitute when providers were killed by the blast.

Wilburton went about the task of burying its first dead today. Funeral arrangements were made for the six bodies brought to the surface.

The one Wilburton morgue has been augmented by the use of vacant buildings nearby where the bodies will be placed, row upon row until they are prepared for burial.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Toughest Of Old Hang-On Coughs Go

Why send a boy to do man's work? Sweet, sugary cough syrups may help a simple cough, but when you are traveling along towards the cemetery with a stubborn tight old cough that lingers on and on with the most persistent devilishness then you need a real cough medicine—and the real destroyer of tough old coughs is Broncholine.

The cough may be so irritating that you can't sleep nights and your days may be filled with racking torture, yet that's just the kind of a cough that Broncholine likes to tackle and conquer.

Many times a few doses will stop the hacking and loosen things up and you can depend upon half a bottle to make a two months' cough quit cold and disappear.

Life is sweet—it will be much sweeter when you get rid of that old time cough.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of Broncholine. There's no dope in it—no chloroform, and a couple of teaspoonfuls will usually end any ordinary cough.—Adv.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA.

YEARS AGO it was common for nations to live by themselves alone, their only communication being through the medium of official documents sent by government to government. What the people themselves knew of their neighbors was only that little which managed to get into print, and this was usually deleted and censored in a way that left either wholly wrong or badly distorted impressions.

It was not to be wondered at that distrusts and suspicions crept into the minds and hearts of one people as against another. Such was the natural outcome of it all.

Then came the fast mail, then the cable and the telegraph. Each, in its turn, served to crumble to a large extent those barriers of secrecy that had stood for so long.

Last week a voice came through the night, the voice of a leader of England speaking to the people of America. That same night the great Marine band of Washington played the national anthems of European nations. It was America's serenade of those peoples, and the waves of the air carried the music across the seas and into the homes and hearts of millions of listeners there.

Thus did America speak directly to its brothers in Europe, and thus did they respond. In this exchange of unity and brotherly feeling, the hands and hearts of great peoples went out to their brothers, breaking down the barriers of suspicion, of distrust and of misunderstanding and leaving in their place a better feeling and a friendlier one than was ever the case before.

Thus has the radio come to be a great leveler of the peoples of the world.

For when people can talk to one another, regardless of distance, the bonds of friendship are strengthened, and a firmer foundation than ever results in the cause of permanent and lasting peace.

WORK, NOT LUCK, COUNTS.

THERE is an adage that "There is luck in leisure" but there is no truth in that adage and there is as little truth in the preaching of many failures that "work and merit don't mean anything any more, the lucky man will win anyway."

Of course there have been battles won by luck in which the better man lost, but they are the proverbial exceptions which prove the rule and are so outnumbered by incidents the reverse as to be unworthy of notice. Luck-won success are accidents. Work-won successes are incidents. Accidents always attract more attention than incidents for the same reason that normal human beings, which are incidents, pay money to see freaks of nature, which are accidents.

The mathematician can tell you how many chances you have in throwing a particular number at dice. The chances of repeating that same throw two or three times in succession are almost beyond calculation.

The same ratio holds good in any enterprise where human dependence reposes on luck. To depend on luck is to play blind man's bluff among the laws of nature and of man.

These laws, when studied carefully, seem to prove that in the long run the best man wins the best place, and personal merit does succeed. Evidences to the contrary are merely the flips of chance.

Luck smiles on those who take off their coats, put their shoulders to the wheel, and plug away at the task. Fortune favors men who are not afraid of dreary, irksome drudgery. Luck climbs no Everest. Luck transmutes no cataract into electricity. Luck is never a ladder from the earth of mediocrity to the heaven of achievement.

HOME INSTINCT STRONG AS EVER.

FEW men and fewer women begin life without the ambition to own a home of their own. A place which in mind at least is to be almost sacred. A castle protected by the law of the land safe from intrusion. Where the family is to be reared; to be adorned and beautified during the vigorous years of life and then truly a haven of refuge in the declining years.

Men and women are the same today as yesterday. Instincts are the same. Inherent qualities are not controlled by changed conditions. Modern life may suggest subterfuges for a home, may make the realization of the desire for a home difficult, but though the subterfuge triumph and the desire fail, the instinct, though stifled, is as strong as ever.

There are those who regret that the modern idea suggests placing the home secondary in importance in life. Why a castle, when theaters, dances, card parties and amusements in public places must be attended every night in the week? Too many consider the home with family prayers, family gatherings and a place which is considered habitable several evenings during the week, one which is presided over by some old fogey. The pendulum has swung forward and will swing back. There will come the time when the home owning and home loving instinct will prevail and the home be reinstated.

ALTRUIST OFFERS USE OF SLED FREE

In line with the precedent set by Henry Ford, well-known automobile manufacturer, Carl Anderson, of the Anderson Rent-A-Car Service, is endeavoring to stage a "come-back" for old-fashioned good times.

Continued heavy snows, which have been an unusual event in Xenia in recent winters, inspired Mr.

Anderson to build a huge bod-sled for the enjoyment of local lovers of coasting.

He is announcing that the sled will be loaned to responsible parties for coasting. The sled seats ten passengers and is equipped with steering apparatus. Parties wishing to borrow the sled can call Mr. Anderson.

THOSE FANCY TOWELS
Long years ago we were wed, Some lovely towels embroidered
Were fashioned by her friends; Some lovely towels of pink and blue, Pale lavender and orchid, too,

With fringed-gentian ends. Initials marvelously done Added a charm to every one.

Since then for twenty years I've seen Those lovely towels, pink and green, In the place upon the rack.

I've thought at times I'd like to try My hands with one of them to dry, But always put it back, And so they've stayed for all to see, Reserved for special company.

I'd say ten thousand times or more I've stooped to pick them from the floor

When they have slithered down. But none who's ever come to lave Or rich or famous, saint or knave Or friends from out of town Has ever felt the soft embrace Of those gay linens on his face.

The letters have been mangled thin, But never hand nor cheek nor chin Has left its moisture there. The colors now have faded pale, But still upon that little rail Those towels get special care. Those lovely towels of gorgeous hues, Which no one ever dares to use.

GOOD PEOPLE

Jesus once said that "There is none good but God."

I have often wondered what He meant by this phrase. What is it to be good?

They don't sell halos in department stores. This I know. But if they did, business would be poor. A good man—a good woman. I am sure that I know many that deserve this name, but I am just as sure that my idea of goodness wouldn't fit any universal idea of goodness.

There are bad people that I like. That is, bad in the conventional sense. But the reason why I like such people is that they have for me so much more good in them than any accepted bad.

One of our greatest privileges is the choice of our friends. My friend looks good to me through and through. If he has the bad in him he will have to take care of it for I have a deal of bad in me that always keeps me busy looking after it.

Sometimes I think of the bad in me as I do the billions of tiny germs the doctors tell me I carry around with me all the time. If my resistance, or fighting powers fall below par, then some set of these pesky busyness gets to work and I have to take to my bed or send for a doctor—or just grit my teeth and say: "Well, you little live rascals, we'll see who is going to win!"

Of a fact two great natures are all the time struggling within us for mastery.

Let's root for the good!

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lary, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE gives up her position as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel when she marries.

TOM PORTER, a young real estate salesman, Time hangs heavy on her hands and she wants to get turn to work, but he objects until he loses his job. Then she returns to her hotel and discovers that she likes the excitement and adulation there better than keeping house. When he gets a position she goes on working so that they can live more comfortably.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XVII—THEIR FIRST ANNIVERSARY

SALLY was so eager to surround Tom with all the comforts of home that she found herself working as hard as though she had two jobs. She always got up first in order to get at breakfast and hurried home at night to be there to greet him. Sometimes she even stopped at the corner market and brought home things for dinner that could be hastily cooked.

He disliked so the places where they could afford to eat. But even with all of these extra labors she seemed to thrive and found time to do some typing for Kendall Brown evenings and Sundays. She had been putting that extra money away intending to surprise Tom with a present on the first anniversary of their wedding.

"Whew, I'm tired," Tom exclaimed when he came in on that great occasion and found Sally gaily bedecked in a new gingham apron, busily preparing an elaborate dinner.

"I bet I've walked fifty miles today and that old adding machine feels as though it weighed a ton," he went on. Tom was always tired nowadays; more often than not, discouraged. So though Sally's back felt as though it would break in half and her head throbbed from the steady tap-tap of her typewriter, she lent a sympathetic ear to his troubles and never mentioned her own.

"They can talk about Niagara Falls and the Riviera and the magnificent Mediterranean," Tom remarked in more jovial mood a little later when he was rested, "but the noblest sight of all to me is you in a kitchen, baking biscuits."

"Silly!" Sally laughed, delighted at his return to the playful, happy mood she loved so well. "If you will be geographical I suppose you will tell me that these are strong as the rock of Gibraltar."

She held out a biscuit to him, fresh from the oven, but he ignored it and kissed the tips of her fingers. "What did she care how tired she was or how hard she had to work if she could only keep him like this!"

There was a holiday air about their dinner and it wasn't until she had poured the coffee in their little demi-tasse cups that were Sally's and latest extravagance that she brought out Tom's present. Almost shyly she held out a little gift to her as he looked in amazement at the silk shirts and ties and socks that Sally had bought him.

"Oh, hyacinths to feed my soul!" Sally exclaimed delightedly as he clasped the pearl beads around her neck that Tom had given her. "Oh, you're a darling to go and get these just because I admired them in the window and wished I could have some some day. Why did I have to go and give you something practical?"

"I suppose because I needed it so badly," Tom said thoughtfully. But there was no bitterness in his voice tonight.

For the first time in weeks Sally dared to suggest that they go downtown to one of the big Broadway picture houses. She had a pass for two that Mr. Stone had given her. "It's love to go, Sally—you know I would," Tom told her, "but the truth is I've got some work I've got to do tonight. And if we go down there it will be eleven o'clock before we get back. It won't take me very long—it's just a report I have to make out. But it's awfully important to me. The sales manager gets these and if he's impressed with a man's report he gives him a better territory to sell in."

Sally was glad of the pompous ring in Tom's voice as he spoke of being too busy to go out anywhere. Far from resenting the intrusion of his work on their anniversary celebration, she gloried in it.

While Sally washed the dishes, Tom labored over his report, and by the time she had finished he was distractedly trying to copy it, tapping it out with one finger on her little typewriter.

"Here, let me do it," she urged. "It's no trouble at all, really. You just read it off to me and I'll copy it."

But as Tom read it off to her, Sally saw many places where it could be improved; facts that could be briefly summarized, figures that could be tabulated. She hadn't typed reports for almost every important man who had ever stayed at the Diplomat Hotel without learning something, she mused.

"Say, that's great," Tom ejaculated when he looked over the neatly typewritten sheets she finished for him in a few minutes. "Why, here I've been struggling over this whole thing all evening, getting it all balled up, when it was so simple you could dash it off just like that."

"Why was it, Sally wondered, as Tom gathered her in his arms and crushed her to him in a flood of endearments, that men never realized when they had been shown up."

She little suspected how soon Tom was going to know, and what a tremendous effect it was going to have on their future.

KATHERMAN CROWD CAPTURES CONTEST ON ANTIOCH COURT

Capital University's court five once more proved too strong for the Antioch College basketball team and coach Prugh's pets dropped a second game 39 to 25 at Yellow Springs Wednesday night.

Antioch displayed its best form in the first half holding Jerry Katherman's representatives to a 16 to 16 tie.

The contest was a see-saw affair in that period.

Capital gradually drew away in the second half counting baskets with regularity when the Antioch defense cracked.

WANTS TO MORTGAGE PROPERTY OF LODGE PETITION RECITES

Application has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Ansel Viney, Arthur C. Scurry, Charles W. Gaines, Harry T. Elliott, and T. A. Lonesome, as member of The Pythian Home Commission, for authorization to mortgage property and borrow $10,000 to finance work of remodeling, enlarging and equipping a large brick building on property owned by the colored Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Ohio, to be used by the lodge as a state home for aged and infirm members.

The property originally containing 725 acres of land, was recently purchased by the state fraternal organization to be remodeled and occupied as the state home. It is located on the Jamestown Pike.

According to the application, the Ohio lodge has amended its original articles of incorporation to authorize the borrowing of funds to pay a general contractor to improve both interior and exterior of the building.

Application was filed through Attorney William O. Stokes, Dayton.

RESULTS THAT LAST

Proven by Xenia People.

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Xenia.

Read the experience of one who uses Doan's Pills years ago and now makes her endorsement even stronger.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "I suffered with lame back quite frequently, but the most annoying symptom was the irregularity of my kidneys. I felt languid and it seemed I couldn't get any rest. Doan's Pills from Donges' Drug Store cured me entirely."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Pohl said: "I have had no further occasion to use Doan's since they cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Pohl had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

This Is Not An Advertisement!

I had a keen advertisement all wrote aut for this week all geared up to tell you a heluva big yarn about how good this International Harvester Truck was. I had pictures of its innards, the record it made last July, how tuff it is and pictures of 72 Ohio owners who refuse to ride in ANY OTHER TRUCK!

I came in yesterday to give this ad to Mister Beeler, the Demon Ad man on Mister Chew's paper, and Mister Beeler says:

"Why Shorty, Mack over at the Greene County Hardware Co., just gave me a half page ad which is so full of words about the International Harvester that we really haven't room in ONE EDITION for BOTH of you!"

Beeler showed me the proof of it and I left and went down to the shop where I find Mack and Jack both propped back in their chairs like pouter pigeons so uppity and up stage that I felt outta place.

After hanging around for a spell I snuk out and went up front and found Hutch, the Sutton Twins and Beal invoicing and I asked 'em wot was the matter with Jack and Mack. Verne says:

"Why, Shorty, ain't you HEARD! You saw that ad that Beeler got, didn't you? Well, Jack and Mack and Beeler complimented them so strong on its purity of English and dignity that Jack and Mack have laid off a couple of days to pat themselves on the back!"

And THAT'S the reason I'm not going to say one bamed word about their trucks this week. I'm the press agent around this hut and I'm agin this idea of folks buttin' in on my stuff.

I hope this Jack and Mack ad don't horn in on this page that I'm to be on—be just my luck though to have 'em do that little thing.

MAN WHO WHIPPED NELSON WILL SPEAK AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HERE SUNDAY

JOE PERCENTE

Joe Percente, ex-pugilist and former "Featherweight Bare-Knuckle Champion of the World," now boxing instructor at the Dayton Y. M. C. A., will speak at the First Baptist Church, Sunday evening.

Percente's history takes fight fans back to the bare-knuckle fighting days when men fought for the pure love of fighting with small financial return.

Joe has probably fought, and frequently vanquished, more of the former champions or near champions than most of the old timers living today.

Numbered among his opponents was Battling Nelson, "The Durable Dane," once reputed to be the greatest slugger of the lightweight ranks. Percente met the "Battler" four times, winning one decision, earning a draw, losing on a foul after apparently having beaten his opponent and was beaten in the fourth meeting.

Joe also held Panama Joe Gans, the scourge of the lightweight ranks in his day to a draw on two occasions. Gans it will be remembered, defeated Battling Nelson in the famous forty-two-round bout at Goldfield, Nev., now a matter of history.

Terrific Terry McGovern, terror of the bantam-weight class back in 1906 and often spoken of as the world's most terrible and feared fighter of his day, could do no better than draw with Percente in six rounds.

Joe also earned a draw with the wonderful Stanley Ketchel, noted for his endurance in long fist fights. In those days fights always went more than twenty rounds if they were to a finish.

Many years ago when the peerless

BAGS BIG 'COON

What is thought to be one of the largest 'coons killed in this vicinity during the present season, was bagged by Floyd McClain, son of Harry McClain, near Jamestown, several days ago.

The 'coon measured thirty-six inches from the tip of his tail to the end of his nose. The carcass weighed sixteen pounds. The coloring of the animal's fur is said to have made a beautiful pelt.

Nearing the age of fifty-eight, Joe was formerly boxing instructor at the universities of Illinois and Purdue and comes to Xenia Sunday with the best of references from the religious director of the Dayton Y. M. C. A.

Percente will also deliver a sermon at the Goe's schoolhouse Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman Is Power in Mosul Tangle

A British woman, Gertrude Bell, is an important figure in the Mosul situation, which threatens to involve Britain and Turkey in a clash of arms. She has the title of secretary to the high commissioner for Iraq, but really is "right hand man" of King Feisal, and the chief British authority in that part of the world.

Gertrude Bell and a map showing the situation in Iraq. Ibn Saud, who recently captured Mecca and most of Hedjaz, has started a drive to overthrow King Feisal and the British sponsored Iraq government.

By JACKSON V. JACOBS

Central Press Correspondent.
London, Jan. —A woman diplomat is being thrust into the limelight by the ominous situation in Iraq which is reviving all the old hatred between Britain and Turkey.

Although she is striving to keep in the background, Gertrude Bell, who has the official title of Oriental secretary to the high commissioner of the Iraq, but is, in reality, the "right hand man" of King Feisal, is a decisive figure in the situation. Feisal is a figurehead, and wouldn't sit on his throne five minutes without British support. So Miss Bell, as chief British authority in that part of the world, has a flock of real Arab sheikhs doing her bidding.

Enormous responsibility rests on Miss Bell's shoulders. Britain is determined to have control of the rich Mosul oil fields, which the league of nations seems inclined to place under the jurisdiction of Iraq, despite the angry protests of Turkey. Not only does Turkey threaten trouble, but Ibn Saud, who recently captured Mecca and most of Hedjaz, has started a drive to overthrow King Feisal. Hoping Turkey will occupy Mosul in the spring, Ibn Saud, a sworn enemy of King Feisal, is concentrating his Wahabite and other tribes on the Mosul frontier from Basra to Bagdad.

The Turks have declared they will accept the league's decision regarding Mosul, but the Turkish forces are concentrating in eastern Anatolia to crush the Kurds and may force the Iraq government to keep large forces on the northern frontier as a precaution.

Miss Bell, daughter of Sir Hugh Bell, Bart., has been in diplomatic work since 1915, in Egypt and Arabia. She is the author of several books of poems.

The speed with which Resinol Ointment usually stops itching and burning and heals eczema and similar eruptions is a revelation to skin sufferers. When they find that the first application of this soothing ointment relieves the discomfort and makes the skin look clearer and healthier, it seems too good to be true.

DE BORD FINED WHEN HE PLEADS GUILTY

William DeBord, 15, Zimmerman and Mt. Zion Road, drew a fine of $500 and costs imposed by Judge S. C. Wright in Probate Court Thursday morning when he pleaded guilty to illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

DeBord was arrested following a raid on his home Monday conducted by Sheriff Morris Sharp in which officers say they seized a complete distilling apparatus of about thirty-gallon capacity.

Parts of the still were said to have been scattered over the farm and secured in various places. DeBord was taken into custody upon his return from work in Dayton.

A second charge of possessing implements for illegal manufacture of intoxicants was not pressed against DeBord when arraigned.

Three Former Sufferers Give Full Credit For Their Relief to Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup

The test of any medicine is what those say who have used it. For years and years Alabama people have been employing Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup in the treatment of such ailments as constipation, indigestion, biliousness and other sufferings resulting from a disordered liver and impure blood. Here is how they write about it:

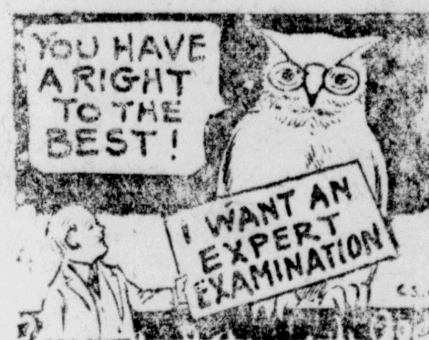

"One of my neighbors told me about Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup and got me to try it, and it is the only thing that helped my indigestion," said Mrs. Mayo Pesnell, Route 1, Ballytown, Ala.

"I felt like my stomach was burning up. Gas would form and make me miserable. This brought on constipation and dull headaches that would hang on for days."

"My first bottle of Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup did me so much good that I began taking it regularly. I kept on taking it till I don't know how we could get along without this grand tonic."—Adv.

"I was actually afraid to speak of my suffering or complain of anything for fear that my mother would make me take medicine which I hated," said Miss Forrest Deese, Route 9, Cullman, Ala.

"I had asthma very bad and my health was falling so fast I just had to do something about it. We have used Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup for years and look on it as a family remedy, so I took that and it helped me more than anything. I regularly. I kept on taking it till I don't know how we could get along without this grand tonic."—Adv.

NO AUTOISTS HELD FOR USING OLD TAGS

Campaign begun Tuesday by police against motorists driving autos in Xenia not equipped with 1926 license tags has not been rewarded by arrests.

Time limit expired Tuesday during which autoists in Xenia drove without fear of arrest for using 1925 plates, and offending motorists will be arrested, according to Police Chief M. E. Graham.

Auto club officials making the 1926 tag distribution in Greene County, say comparatively few motorists are without new licenses, judging from the sale to date.

NINETY TWO DEAD IN MINE DISASTER

FIRE RAVAGES WATERFRONT AT GALVESTON

LOSS ESTIMATED AT MILLION DOLLARS IN WHARVES AND DOCKS

Cotton Destroyed In Blaze
—Warehouses Burned Down

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 14.—Conservative estimates today placed the loss close to $1,000,000 in the fire which ravaged the waterfront here last night and early today.

Four wharves, four blocks of warehouse facilities near the business section approximately forty carloads of freight and 4,400 bales of cotton were either wholly destroyed or badly damaged.

The blaze started in the east end of the Mallory line docks near Pier 22. About 4500 bales of cotton were destroyed.

Four entire blocks of water-front warehouse facilities were destroyed. No lives were reported lost.

WESLEYAN DEBATE TEAM WILL BE BUSY

Delaware, O., Jan. 14.—Colleges and Universities from all parts of the United States are included in the debate schedule of Ohio Wesleyan University, it was announced today. Wesleyan will meet in 15 or 16 contests during the remainder of the year, John T. Marshman, head of the department of oratory said.

Wesleyan opens the debating season tomorrow night, meeting teams from Wooster and Western Reserve in the annual contest of the Ohio Intercollegiate Debating League.

Wesleyan will debate Wooster at Cleveland and Western Reserve at Wooster while Western Reserve and Wooster meet in the Wesleyan auditorium here.

The subject for debate is: "Resolved, that the present policy to extend governmental restrictions of individual liberty should be condemned."

SHERIFF INDICTED IN BEER SYNDICATE

Columbus, Jan. 14.—Gov. A. V. Donahey will take no action to suspend Sheriff William Witt, Hamilton County, indicted last yesterday in connection with the operations of a Cincinnati beer syndicate, the executive announced today.

Sheriff Witt was indicted together with officials and employees of the Monark Brewery Company. The men, the government charges, operated a syndicate that distributed 1,000 gallons of beer daily to Cincinnati saloons.

"There are no charges against Sheriff Witt before me and therefore there is no reason why I should intervene and suspend him," the Governor told the United Press. The governor said that even though the charges are now filed, he doubted whether he would interfere.

BUILDERS SELECT OFFICERS AT MEET

Springfield, O., Jan. 14.—Delegates at the closing session of the two-day convention of the Ohio State Association of Builders' Exchanges elected John H. Clemmer, Akron, president, yesterday.

Other new officers installed are: George B. Hicks, South Charleston, vice president; Harry Gillette, Cleveland, second vice president; Tyler Field, Cincinnati, third vice president; Phillip P. Gott, Akron, secretary-treasurer, re-elected, and J. A. Higgins Dayton, assistant secretary.

Delegates were entertained at dinner by officials of the Southwestern Portland Cement Company at its new plant undergoing construction in Osborn, Wednesday noon.

BLAME BOTH PARTIES FOR SHORT REVENUES

Columbus, O., Jan. 14.—Responsibility for the decreases in the state's general revenue fund, was laid at the door of both the Republican and Democratic parties in a swift exchange of notes by the two state organizations today.

Countering charges by Republican State Chairman Fred Warner, that Gov. Donahey was responsible for the condition of the treasury, Thomas E. Dye, head of the Democratic state executive committee pointed out that the legislature passed bills appropriating $9,000,000 over the Governor's veto.

State Treasurer Day has issued a warning that the state treasury faces virtual depletion within the next two years.

OTHER ISSUES MAY BE INJECTED IN SESSION CALLED TO ENACT RELIEF

Fear Solons Will Forget Pledges and Bring Up Bible Bill, Auto License Law, State Office Building and Other Questions

Columbus, Jan. 14.—The Ohio General Assembly will convene at 9 a.m. tomorrow for the avowed purpose of enacting financial relief legislation for bankrupt or near bankrupt political subdivisions.

Whether legislative leaders will be able to carry out their program of limiting the reconvened session to already drafted emergency relief measures, appeared increasingly doubtful today.

Before issuing the call for the session the special reconvening committee asked each solon to pledge himself to enact only the relief bill. Open dissatisfaction with this plan was expressed by the legislators as they gathered today, preparatory to party caucuses this evening.

The Republicans have invited the Democrats to participate in a joint caucus but whether the Democrats will reject the offer and conduct their own caucus, remained doubtful.

In any event, legislators declared, Senator Joseph R. Gardner, floor leader of the senate and Representative Robert A. Taft, floor leader of the house, will meet with opposition when their chambers caucus.

In the senate the division is very close.

The fact that many legislators are reluctant to risk factional battles, may react in favor of those who pledged themselves to enact only the relief bill.

In addition to the relief measure, the law-makers will be asked to consider the state office building controversy, the automobile license law, the Bible bill and a request for an appropriation to put the realtors licensing act into effect.

Rep. Morgan, Cleveland has prepared a "repealer bill" to wipe off the statutes, 1925 sections of the law that have become obsolete and thirteen sections that have been declared unconstitutional. He has announced he will demand enactment of the measures.

W. A. Clark, of Champagin County, is expected to lead a demand for re-enactment of the Bible bill over Governor Donahey's veto.

The governor rejected the measure last spring.

FIFTEEN YEAR OLD GIRL FULL FLEDGED MUSICAL COMPOSER

Youngtown Girl Sells Ballad Written At Household

Youngstown, O., Jan. 14.—Since early childhood Sylvia Malagisi, Youngstown dreamed of the day when songs of her composition would be on the music rack of dance orchestras. Today at 15, Sylvia is exhibiting her first published work—a ballad entitled "In the Land of Paradise Far Away," which has just been purchased by a New York publishing house.

Sylvia's attempts to climb into the realm of composers has not been without stumbling blocks.

She is the oldest of ten children and in a family that size with its house work and caring for babies, writing love-laden words for songs can be but a side line.

But Sylvia hums her songs as she plies the broom and dustcloth and shapes the words for the ballads. Then, after work is done and the needs of the smaller brothers and sisters are satisfied, Sylvia sits at the kitchen table and jots down her thoughts on paper.

Like the countless composers and authors gone before, Sylvia met reverses in her first attempt to market her work. Rejection slips and returned manuscripts brought, not despair, but new determination.

Now the first accepted composition has brought joy to Sylvia. Rights for her song have been taken by a New York recording orchestra.

Sylvia also has ambitions as a magazine writer and already has several sketches in nationally known publications.

NICAURAGUAN CHIEF EXECUTIVE QUILTS

Washington, Jan. 14.—President Solorzano of Nicaragua has resigned following action of the Nicaraguan congress in declaring the vice presidency vacant and barring vice president Sacasa from the country for two years, according to a message from American minister Eberhardt to the state department today.

Should this action be followed by an unconstitutional assumption of control in Nicaragua by General Chamorro, Nicaragua's military master, a break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Nicaragua is foreseen here. The United States stands on its policy of refusal to recognize any Central American government securing power through other than constitutional means. There is at present no intention to send American marines back to Nicaragua.

FIREMAN HURT WHEN FIRE TRUCK STRUCK

Springfield, O., Jan. 14.—Charles H. Deam, 32, fireman, was perhaps fatally injured and John Miller, 34, fireman, was slightly hurt last night when a cattle truck driven by Gus Eiser, Springfield, crashed into a fire truck speeding to a blaze.

Four fire companies and the ladder truck were answering an alarm. Deam is suffering from a fractured skull.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY SOUGHT FOR OHIO BOY HELD FOR MURDER

GOVERNOR DONAHEY APPEALS IN BEHALF OF CONVICTED YOUTH

Relatives and Citizens
Leave For Utah To Halt
Execution

Columbus, Jan. 14.—Unless eleventh hour executive clemency is granted, Ralph Seybolt, Defiance, O., youth, will be executed by a firing squad at the Utah penitentiary Salt Lake City, tomorrow morning.

Seybolt, convicted of killing a policeman chose to face an array of riflemen rather than die on a scaffold.

Armed with a personal appeal from Gov. Donahey, a delegation of Defiance citizens and Seybolt's relatives were due in Salt Lake City today to appeal to Governor George J. Dern, for mercy.

In response to a telegram from Gov. Donahey, the Utah executive said the appeal had been taken under consideration, adding that "Seybolt's case is causing me great concern." The condemned man is accused of killing Patrolman David H. Crowther in one of the most atrocious murders in the criminal annals of Utah.

The youth, with two companions, was picked up by Crowther, who had been commissioned to arrest tramps and pan handlers.

Instead of arresting the boys, Crowther, according to testimony, offered to escort them to the outskirts of the city where they could board a freight train.

Enroute to the city limits, Crowther was attacked and slain. He was robbed and his automobile stolen. Seybolt was captured and convicted of the murder.

The youth's case has been before the Utah board of pardons, six times—today's session marking the seventh.

Each time the board denied clemency and each time Seybolt chose to be shot down by a firing squad rather than be hanged.

Seybolt's attorney was scheduled to appear before the board today for his final appeal. He has obtained new evidence, he says, but declined to disclose the nature of it.

Adverse ruling by the board will place Seybolt's life in the hands of Gov. Dern.

MOVE TO EXTRADITE ALLEGED SLAYER TO BE STARTED FRIDAY

Papers Will Be Sent For Return Of Robert Scott
To Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Extradition papers for the return of Robert Scott, wanted here for the murder of Joseph Maurer, but now being held by police of San Francisco will be sent out today or tomorrow, the state's attorney's office announced.

Miss Helen Bullard, a witness to the Maurer killing, identified a photograph of "John Redding" as that of Scott. Scott gave his name as "John Redding" when he was arrested in California, a few months after he murdered and it was not until his term for an attempted robbery was about to expire did police get word he was the much wanted Chicago slayer.

Reports that the parents of Robert have denied he and "Redding" are one, were waved aside by Chicago police as just another effort to defend the prisoner. Russell Scott, brother of Robert, now is in an Illinois asylum for the insane following his conviction for the Maurer murder which occurred during a hold-up.

NEW ERA GRAIN COMPANY ELEVATOR ROBBED OF $250 IN MERCHANDISE

Authorities are without clues to the identity of thieves who broke into the offices and storage room of The New Era Grain Company elevator at Bowersville sometime Wednesday night and escaped with grain, flour and tools valued at about $250.

Officials of the company are unable to determine the exact amount of loot taken but a complete checkup is being made by employees.

Ten bushels of clover seed valued at $225, one barrel of flour, a five-gallon can of oil and numerous tools including wrenches were missed by an employee who opened up the establishment Thursday morning.

Marks on the front office door found standing open, lead officials to believe the door had been "jimmied." Entrance to an inside store room was effected by the use of a skeleton key as no marks appeared on the door to show force had been used.

The robbery was investigated by Sheriff Morris Sharp and Deputy Sheriff John Baughn.

The girl must face a charge of murder. Brinson died in Charity Hospital of blood poisoning which resulted from stab wounds said to have been inflicted by Zannie during a fit of rage.

She sobbed her story to detectives. She prayed that William would survive.

Cleveland, Jan. 14.—Attorney H. A. Marting, was recalled as a witness today in the retrial of Josiah Kirby, former head of the $30,000,000 Cleveland Discount Co., on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The government sought, through Marting's testimony, to disclose a system of interlocking directorates existed between the Discount Company and other firms in which Kirby was interested.

Testimony by government witnesses disclosed that Kirby instructed his salesmen to sell securities of the discount company by representing the company dealt only in first mortgages.

RESCUE TEAMS GIVE UP HOPE FOR EIGHTY SEVEN STILL BURIED

Nine Saved While Six
Bodies Out—Fire Boss
Blamed

Wilburton, Okla., Jan. 14.—Fire which raged all night in the Degnan-McConnell mine No. 21, was brought under control early this morning and preparations were started to remove the bodies of the remaining eighty-six miners known to be dead in the mine. Six have been recovered.

All night long rescue teams worked in peril of their lives. Parts of the mine are still filled with gas, but nevertheless workers went down, curtailed off the gas filled chambers and fought the flames.

Most of the bodies will be brought up today but some which are covered with debris in remote passages cannot be reached for a week, it is estimated.

It is impossible for any of the miners to be alive, officials say.

Sixty state troopers under Major General B. H. Marham and Col. E. L. Head are on duty around the mine.

Dawn found Wilburton able to count only six of her dead. Fire and water threatened to rob the rest of even a humane burial.

A check established that 161 men had entered the mine just before the blast early Wednesday morning, twenty-five white men and seventy-six negroes. Eight negroes emerged late yesterday alive. They had been

CRAWLS FROM MINE
Degnan-McConnell Mine, Wilburton, Okla., Jan. 14.—Like one returning from the dead, Cecil McKinney, 25, white miner, entombed in the Degnan-McConnell mine crawled out of the mine entrance this morning.

McKinney had crawled on his hands and knees for twenty-three hours—had crawled over the body of his father whom he recognized and came out to learn that a brother was still in the mine.

Bayard being slightly burned and terribly fatigued, McKinney was little worse for his trying experience.

on the upper level. Another miner came out today.

Six bodies were retrieved late last night—three whites and three negroes.

Some one took a chance and paid with his life. This was the verdict of John Almond, district mine inspector after he had spent nearly eight hours in the mine.

Almond was one in charge of rescue work during the night.

He reported the mine had been cased up by the "fire bosses." The "fire bosses" go into the mine every morning, three hours before the miners and test for gas. If they find any appreciable evidence of it they are supposed to close the mine while they take immediate steps to eradicate it.

Almond reported the "fire bosses" had oked the mine in the morning but had left notices for the miners. The "fire bosses" were both experienced and Almond believed they just "took a chance" on the ventilating system sweeping the gas out of the mine.

Both "fire bosses" were found dead. There was little sleep in Wilburton and vicinity last night. Scores of relatives and friends of the entombed miners thronged around the mine.

Henry Phillips, one of the eight negroes to escape alive, has four sons still in the mine. They are all dead. One of the eight rescued negroes, is crippled and hobbled out of the mine with a cane after the explosion.

Henry Johnson, negro, after being rescued alive from the mine drank a cup of coffee and joined the rescue team.

Elmer Thomas, electrical engineer from Hartshorne was found near the main shaft. The concussion stopped his watch at 8:30 a. m. Many were burned.

The list of survivors now stands at nine with ninety-two listed as dead.

A call for a relief fund may be broadcast for the miners families, many of the milt destitute when providers were killed by the blast.

Wilburton went about the task of burying its first dead today. Funeral arrangements were made for the six bodies brought to the surface.

The one Wilburton morgue has been augmented by the use of vacant buildings nearby where the bodies will be placed, rows upon rows until they are prepared for burial.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Toughest Of Old Hang-On Coughs Go

Why send a boy to do man's work? Sweet, sugary cough syrups may help a simple cough, but when you are traveling along towards the cemetery with a stubborn tight old cough that lingers on and on with the most persistent devilishness then you need a great cough medicine—and the real destroyer of tough old coughs is Broncholine.

The cough may be so irritating that you can't sleep nights and your days may be filled with racking torture, yet that's just the kind of a cough that Broncholine likes to tackle and conquer.

Many times a few doses will stop the hacking and loosen things up and you can depend upon half a bottle to make a two months' cough quit cold and disappear.

Life is sweet—it will be much sweeter when you get rid of that old time cough.

Ask Sayre and Hemphill or any wideawake druggist for a bottle of Broncholine. There's no dope in it—or chloroform, and a couple of teaspoonfuls will usually end any ordinary cough.—Adv.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA.

YEARS AGO it was common for nations to live by themselves alone, their only communication being through the medium of official documents sent by government to government. What the people themselves knew of their neighbors was only that little which managed to get into print, and this was usually deleted and censored in a way that left either wholly wrong or badly distorted impressions.

It was not to be wondered at that distrusts and suspicions crept into the minds and hearts of one people as against another. Such was the natural outcome of it all.

Then came the fast mail, then the cable and the telegraph. Each, in its turn, served to crumble to a large extent those barriers of secrecy that had stood for so long.

Last week a voice came through the night, the voice of a leader of England speaking to the people of America. That same night the great Marine band of Washington played the national anthems of European nations. It was America's serene of those peoples, and the waves of the air carried the music across the seas and into the homes and hearts of millions of listeners there.

Thus did America speak directly to its brothers in Europe, and thus did they respond. In this exchange of unity and brotherly feeling, the hands and hearts of great peoples went out to their brothers, breaking down the barriers of suspicion, of distrust and of misunderstanding and leaving in their place a better feeling and a friendlier one than was ever the case before.

Thus has the radio come to be a great leveler of the peoples of the world.

For when people can talk to one another, regardless of distance, the bonds of friendship are strengthened, and a firmer foundation than ever results in the cause of permanent and lasting peace.

WORK, NOT LUCK, COUNTS.

THERE is an adage that "There is luck in leisure" but there is no truth in that adage and there is as little truth in the preaching of many failures that "work and merit don't mean anything any more, the lucky man will win anyway."

Of course there have been battles won by luck in which the better man lost, but they are the proverbial exceptions which prove the rule and are so outnumbered by incidents the reverse as to be unworthy of notice. Luck-won success are accidents. Work-won successes are incidents. Accidents always attract more attention than incidents for the same reason that normal human beings, which are incidents, pay money to see freaks of nature, which are accidents.

The mathematician can tell you how many chances you have in throwing a particular number at dice. The chances of repeating that same throw two or three times in succession are almost beyond calculation.

The same ratio holds good in any enterprise where human dependence reposes on luck. To depend on luck is to play blind man's bluff among the laws of nature and of man.

These laws, when studied carefully, seem to prove that in the long run the best man wins the best place, and personal merit does succeed. Evidences to the contrary are merely the flips of chance.

Luck smiles on those who take off their coats, put their shoulders to the wheel, and plug away at the task. Fortune favors men who are not afraid of dreary, irksome drudgery. Luck climbs no Everest. Luck transmutes no cataract into electricity. Luck is never a ladder from the earth of mediocrity to the heaven of achievement.

HOME INSTINCT STRONG AS EVER.

FEW men and fewer women begin life without the ambition to own a home of their own. A place which in mind at least is to be almost sacred. A castle protected by the law of the land safe from intrusion. Where the family is to be reared; to be adorned and beautified during the vigorous years of life and then truly a haven of refuge in the declining years.

Men and women are the same today as yesterday. Instincts are the same. Inherent qualities are not controlled by changed conditions. Modern life may suggest subterfuges for a home, may make the realization of the desire for a home difficult, but though the subterfuge triumph and the desire fail, the instinct, though stifled, is as strong as ever.

There are those who regret that the modern idea suggests placing the home secondary in importance in life. Why a castle, when theaters, dances, card parties and amusements in public places must be attended every night in the week? Too many consider the home with family prayers, family gatherings and a place which is considered habitable several evenings during the week, one which is provided over by some old fogey. The pendulum has swung forward and will swing back. There will come the time when the home owning and home loving instinct will prevail and the home be reinstated.

USE OF SLED FREE

In line with the precedent set by Henry Ford, well-known automobile manufacturer, Carl Anderson, of the Anderson Rent-A-Car Service, is endeavoring to stage a "come-back" for old-fashioned good times.

Continued heavy snows, which have been an unusual event in Xenia in recent winters, inspired Mr.

Anderson to build a huge bod-sled for the enjoyment of local lovers of coasting.

He is announcing that the sled will be loaned to responsible parties for coasting. The sled seats ten passengers and is equipped with steering apparatus. Parties wishing to borrow the sled can call Mr. Anderson.

1906-Twenty Years Ago-1926

Xenia was a dry town yesterday. A majority of the saloons were closed on Sunday. Keepers were evidently in fear of arrest.

In a large beautiful, new building, "Five Points Mission School" held its first meeting.

Mr. Charles Purdom, who recently accepted a position as traveling salesman for the M. Hertenstein Stove Co., Columbus, left for Indianapolis, his temporary headquarters.

With fringed-gentian ends. Initials marvelously done. Added a charm to every one.

Since then for twenty years I've seen Those lovely towels, pink and green, In the place upon the rack. I've thought at times I'd like to try My hands with one of them to dry. But always put it back, And so they've stayed for all to see, Reserved for special company.

I'd say ten thousand times or more I've stooped to pick them from the floor

When they have slithered down. But none who's ever come to lave Or rich or famous, saint or knave. Or friends from out of town Has ever felt the soft embrace Of those gay linens on his face.

The letters have been mangled thin, But never hand nor cheek nor chin Has left its moisture there. The colors now have faded pale, But still upon that little rail Those towels get special care. Those lovely towels of gorgeous hues, Which no one ever dares to use.

GOOD PEOPLE

Jesus once said that "There is none good but God."

I have often wondered what He meant by this phrase. What is it to be good?

They don't sell halos in department stores. This I know. But if they did, business would be poor. A good man—a good woman. I am sure that I know many that deserve this name, but I am just as sure that my idea of goodness wouldn't fit any universal idea of goodness.

There are bad people that I like. That is, bad in the conventional sense. But the reason why I like such people is that they have for me so much more good in them than any accepted bad.

One of our greatest privileges is the choice of our friends. My friend looks good to me through and through. If he has the bad in him he will have to take care of it for I have a deal of bad in me that always keeps me busy looking after it.

Sometimes I think of the bad in me as I do the billions of tiny germs the doctors tell me I carry around with me all the time. If my resistance, or fighting powers fall below par, then some set of these pesky busy-

ities gets to work and I have to take to my bed or send for a doctor—or just grit my teeth and say: "Well, you little live rascals, we'll see who is going to win!"

Of a fact two great natures are all the time struggling within us for mastery.

Let's root for the good!

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE gives up her position as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel when she marries.

TOM PORTER, a young real estate salesman. Time hangs heavy on her hands and she wants to return to work, but he objects until he loses his job. Then she returns to her hotel and discovers that she likes the excitement and adulation there better than keeping house. When he gets a position she goes on working so that they can live more comfortably.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XVII—THEIR FIRST ANNIVERSARY

SALLY was so eager to surround Tom with all the comforts of home that she found herself working as hard as though she had two jobs. She always got up first in order to get breakfast and hurried home at night to be there to greet him. Sometimes she even stopped at the corner market and brought home things for dinner that could be hastily cooked.

He disliked so the places where they could afford to eat. But even with all of these extra labors she seemed to thrive and found time to do some typing for Kendall Brown evenings and Sundays. She had been putting that extra money away intending to surprise Tom with a present on the first anniversary of their wedding.

"Where, I'm tired," Tom exclaimed when he came in on that great occasion and found Sally gaily bedecked in a new, gingham apron, busily preparing an elaborate dinner.

"I bet I've walked fifty miles today and that old adding machine feels as though it weighed a ton," he went on. Tom was always tired on Wednesdays; more often than not, discouraged. So though Sally's back felt as though it would break in half and her head throbbed from the steady tap-tap of her typewriter, she lent a sympathetic ear to his troubles and never mentioned her own.

"They can talk about Niagara Falls and the Riviera and the magnificent Mediterranean," Tom remarked in more jovial mood a little later when he was rested, "but the noblest sight of all to me is you in a kitchen, baking biscuits."

"Silly!" Sally laughed, delighted at his return to the playful, happy mood she loved so well. "If you will be so good, I suppose you will tell me that these are strong as the rock of Gibraltar."

She held out a biscuit to him, fresh from the oven, but he ignored it and kissed the tips of her fingers. What did she care how tired she was or how hard she had to work if she could only keep him like this!

There was a holiday air about their dinner and it wasn't until she had poured the coffee in their little demi-tasse cups that were Sally's latest extravagance that she brought out Tom's present. Almost shyly he held out a little gift to her as he looked in amazement at the silk shirt and ties and socks that Sally had bought him.

"Oh, hyacinths to feed my soul!" Sally exclaimed delightedly as she clasped the pearl beads around her neck that Tom had given her. "Oh, you're a darling to go and get these just because I admired them in the window and wished I could have some some day. Why did I have to go and give you something practical?"

"I suppose because I needed it so badly," Tom said thoughtfully. But there was no bitterness in his voice tonight.

For the first time in weeks Sally dared to suggest that they go downtown to one of the big Broadway picture houses. She had a pass for two that Mr. Stone had given her. "I'd love to go, Sally—you know I would," Tom told her, "but the truth is I've got some work I've got to do tonight. And if we go down there it will be eleven o'clock before we get back. It won't take me very long—it's just a report I have to make out. But it's awfully important to me. The sales manager gets these and if he's impressed with a man's report he gives him a better territory to sell in."

Sally was glad of the pompous ring in Tom's voice as he spoke of being too busy to go out anywhere. Far from resenting the intrusion of his work on their anniversary celebration, she gloried in it.

While Sally washed the dishes, Tom labored over his report, and by the time she had finished he was distractedly trying to copy it, tap-

"That's the kind of wife I love," ping it out with one finger on her little typewriter. "Here, let me do it," she urged. "It's no trouble at all, really. You just read it off to me and I'll copy it."

But as Tom read it off to her, Sally saw many places where it could be improved; facts that could be briefly summarized, figures that could be tabulated. She hadn't typed reports for almost every important man who had ever stayed at the Diplomat Hotel without learning something, she mused.

"Say, that's great," Tom ejaculated when he looked over the neatly typewritten sheets she finished for him in a few minutes. "Why, here I've been struggling over this whole thing all evening, getting it all balled up, when it was so simple you could dash it off just like that."

Why was it, Sally wondered, as Tom gathered her in his arms and crushed her to him in a flood of tenderness, that men never realized when they had been shown up?

She little suspected how soon Tom was going to know, and what a tremendous effect it was going to have on their future.

Tomorrow—Help Not Wanted.

RESULTS THAT LAST

Proven by Xenia People.

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Xenia.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and now makes her endorsement even stronger.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "I suffered with lame back quite frequently, but the most annoying symptom was the irregularity of my kidneys. I felt languid and it seemed I couldn't get any rest. Doan's Pills from Donges' Drug Store cured me entirely."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Pohl said: "I have had no further occasion to use Doan's since they cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Pohl had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

This Is Not An Advertisement!

I had a keen advertisement all wrote aut for this week all geared up to tell you a heluva big yarn about how good this International Harvester Truck was. I had pictures of its innards, the record it made last July, how tuff it is and pictures of 72 Ohio owners who refuse to ride in ANY OTHER TRUCK!

I came in yesterday to give this ad to Mister Beeler, the Demon Ad man on Mister Chew's paper, and Mister Beeler says:

"Why Shorty, Mack over at the Greene County Hardware Co., just gave me a half page ad which is so full of words about the International Harvester that we really haven't room in ONE EDITION for BOTH of you!"

Beeler showed me the proof of it and I left and went down to the shop where I find Mack and Jack both propped back in their chairs like pouter pigeons so uppity and up stage that I felt outta place.

After hanging around for a spell I snuk out and went up front and found Hutch, the Sutton Twins and Beal invoicing and I asked 'em wotter was the matter with Jack and Mack. Verne says:

"Why, Shorty, ain't you HEARD! You saw that ad that Beeler got, didn't you? Well, Jack and Mack and Beeler complimented them so strong on its purity of English and dignity that Jack and Mack have laid off a couple of days to pat themselves on the back!"

And THAT'S the reason I'm not going to say one bamed word about their trucks this week. I'm the press agent around this hut and I'm agin this idea of folks buttin' in on my stuff.

I hope this Jack and Mack ad don't horn in on this page that I'm to be on—be just my luck though to have 'em do that little thing.

SHORTY.

MAN WHO WHIPPED NELSON WILL SPEAK AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HERE SUNDAY

JOE PERCENTE

John L. Sullivan, greatest of the heavy weights, was touring the country, Percente was to be found in the "Boston Strong Boy's" party. Joe was also later second to "Gentleman Jim Corbett" when he found the terrible Sullivan for the championship of the world. Joe also lays claim to recognition

Joe Percente, ex-pugilist and former "Featherweight Bare-Knuckle Champion of the World," now boxing instructor at the Dayton Y. M. C. A., will speak at the First Baptist Church, Sunday evening.

Percente's history takes fight fans back to the bare-knuckle fighting days when men fought for the pure love of fighting with small financial return.

Joe has probably fought, and frequently vanquished, more of the former champions or near champions than most of the old timers living today.

Numbered among his opponents was Battling Nelson, "The Durable Dane," once reputed to be the greatest slugger of the lightweight ranks. Percente met the "Battler" four times, winning one decision, earning a draw, losing on a foul after apparently having beaten his opponent and was beaten in the fourth meeting.

Joe also held Panama Joe Gans, the scourge of the lightweight ranks in his day to a draw on two occasions. Gans it will be remembered, defeated Battling Nelson in the famous forty-two-round bout at Goldfield, Nev., now a matter of history.

Terrible Terry McGovern, terror of the bantam-weight class back in 1906 and often spoken of as the world's most terrible and feared fighter of his day, could do no better than draw with Percente in six rounds.

Joe also earned a draw with the wonderful Stanley Ketchel, noted for his endurance in long fist fights. In those days fights always went more than twenty rounds if they were to a finish.

Woman Is Power in Mosul Tangle

A British woman, Gertrude Bell, is an important figure in the Mosul situation, which threatens to involve Britain and Turkey in a clash of arms. She has the title of secretary to the high commissioner for Iraq, but really is "right hand man" of King Feisal, and the chief British authority in that part of the world.

Gertrude Bell and a map showing the situation in Iraq. Ibn Saud, who recently captured Mecca and most of Hedjaz, has started a drive to overthrow King Feisal and the British sponsored Iraq government.

Central Press Correspondent.
London, Jan. 14.—A woman diplomat is being thrust into the limelight by the ominous situation in Iraq which is reviving all the old hatred between Britain and Turkey.

Although she is striving to keep in the background, Gertrude Bell, who has the official title of Oriental secretary to the high commissioner of the Iraq, but is, in reality, the "right hand man" of King Feisal, is a decisive figure in the situation. Feisal is a figurehead, and wouldn't sit on his throne five minutes without British support.

So Miss Bell, as chief British authority in that part of the world, has a flock of real Arab sheiks doing her bidding.

Enormous responsibility rests on Miss Bell's shoulders. Britain is determined to have control of the rich Mosul oil fields, which the league of nations seems inclined to place under the jurisdiction of Iraq, despite the angry protests of Turkey. Not only does Turkey threaten trouble, but Ibn Saud, who recently captured Mecca and most of Hedjaz, has started a drive to overthrow King Feisal. Hoping Turkey will occupy Mosul in the spring, Ibn Saud, a sworn enemy of King Feisal, is concentrating his Wahabite and other tribes on the Mosul frontiers from Basra to Bagdad.

The Turks have declared they will accept the league's decision regarding Mosul, but the Turkish forces are concentrating in eastern Anatolia to crush the Kurds and may force the Iraq government to keep large forces on the northern frontier as a precaution.

Miss Bell, daughter of Sir Hugh Bell, Bart., has been in diplomatic work since 1915, in Egypt and Arabia. She is the author of several books of poems.

It certainly does heal eczema

The speed with which Resinol Ointment usually stops itching and burning and heals eczema and similar eruptions is a revelation to skin sufferers. When they find that the first application of this soothing ointment relieves the discomfort and makes the skin look clearer and healthier, it seems too good to be true.

If you have some tormenting, unsightly eruption why not get rid of it by giving your skin a few treatments with

DE BORD FINED WHEN HE PLEADS GUILTY

William DeBord, 15, Zimmerman and Mt. Zion Road, drew a fine of $500 and costs imposed by Judge S. C. Wright in Probate Court Thursday morning when he pleaded guilty to illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

DeBord was arrested following a raid on his home Monday conducted by Sheriff Morris Sharp in which officers say they seized a complete distilling apparatus of about thirty-gallon capacity.

Parts of the still were said to have been scattered over the farm and secreted in various places. DeBord was taken into custody upon his return from work in Dayton.

A second charge of possessing implements for illegal manufacture of intoxicants was not pressed against DeBord when arraigned.

Three Former Sufferers Give Full Credit For Their Relief to Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup

The test of any medicine is what those say who have used it. For years and years Alabama people have been employing Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in the treatment of such ailments as constipation, indigestion, biliousness and other sufferings resulting from a disordered liver and impure blood. Here is how they write about it:

"One of my neighbors told me about Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup and got me to try it, and it is the only thing that helped my indigestion," said Mrs. Mayo Pesnell, Route 1, Baileytown, Ala.

"I felt like my stomach was burning up. Gas would form and make me miserable. This brought on constipation and dull headaches that would hang on for days."

"My first bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup did me so much good that I began taking it regularly. I kept on taking it till I got completely over my trouble and am never without it." "I was actually afraid to speak of my suffering or complain of anything for fear that my mother would make me take medicine which I hated," said Miss Forrest Deese, Route 9, Cullman, Ala.

"I had asthma very bad and my health was falling so fast I just had to do something about it. We have used Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup for years and look on it as a family remedy, so I took that and it helped me more than anything. I don't know how we could get along without this grand tonic."—Adv.

NO AUTOISTS HELD FOR USING OLD TAGS

Campaign begun Tuesday by police against motorists driving autos in Xenia not equipped with 1926 license tags has not been rewarded by arrests.

Time limit expired Tuesday during which autoists in Xenia drove without fear of arrest for using 1925 plates, and offending motorists will be arrested, according to Police Chief M. E. Graham.

Auto club officials making the 1926 tag distribution in Greene County, say comparatively few motorists are without new licenses, judging from the sale to date.

Letters and Questions About Health

By Dr. Lewis Baker and Associates

An Advertisement Informing The Public in a Common-sense Manner How To Distinguish The Simple Ailments And Symptoms, And the Right Remedies for Treatment. Each Medicine Possesses The Highest Qualities For The Purpose Intended.

To aid the sufferer of rheumatism I recommend Cardiol tablets, a non-secret formula, which should be taken several weeks or months, as the case may require.

As a quick relief for the acute and agonizing pains I advise the use of five-grain Su-thol tablets. (Pronounced "soothe-all"). These tablets contain no narcotic, habit-forming substance, and generally produce comfort, rest and sleep for the victim of pain.

Miss C. A. S. writes: "Week after week I read of so many being helped by your advice, which I am now seeking. I had an operation and fell off from 130 pounds to 56 pounds. Am pale, nervous, weak and don't sleep well or gain weight or strength. In spite of the fact I have taken different medicines prescribed for me.

Answer: I suggest that Cadomene tablets be taken as a tonic-investigating aid for the blood and nerves.

A. L. B. writes: "For several years I had suffered with backache and pains in lower abdomen from kidney and bladder trouble. began taking Balmwort tablets and now feel fine, except for a bronchial cough that nothing will relieve. Answer: For obstinate bronchial cough so troublesome at this season, I advise essence Menth-Laxene.

Mrs. E. H. R. asks: "I always enjoyed good health until after my baby was born. Since then my kidneys and bladder have given me trouble. Have dreadful backache; blinding headaches; have big puffs under my eyes and feel fleeting pains and frequently a very uneasy, nervous sensation. Urine is scant and dark, with bad odor." Answer: I suggest that you obtain Balmwort tablets and take them as a tonic-diuretic, neutralizing aid to the urinary system.

F. F. R. asks: "Will you please tell me of a treatment for excessive oily hair and dandruff very bad?" Answer: Ask druggist for medicated Chex soap and use for shampoo, as per directions. There is nothing in my opinion so inexpensive and so thoroughly effective. Chex soap also destroys and prevents perspiration odors, and is an exquisite beautifying complexion soap.

Answer to F. O. C.: To overcome constipation I advise Casca-Royal Pills as both pleasant and effective to a high degree.

Answer to D. B. E.: To avoid frequent colds and catarrh of the head, obtain triple strength Menth-Laxene Salve. Full directions for use with each package.

Note: Dr. Lewis Baker, Medical Director of The Blackburn Products Co., 212 College Bldg., Dayton, Ohio, will send his valuable guide to Health and Beauty, to any address upon receipt of five cents. The trustworthy medicines advised, can be obtained at all leading druggists.
